Safety Feature CRV Technology

WHY CRV TECHNOLOGY IS SAFER:
 The misuse of butane canisters in butane-powered stoves can potentially put customers at risk. Knowing this, Sterno made the decision to research and develop the safest butane canister on the market. Not just the safest butane canister when used according to instructions but the safest butane canister when inadvertently misused. The Industry-First, Built-in, State-of-the-Art Countersink Release Vent System (CRV) is comprised of vent ports located on top of the canister. When the canister reaches a dangerous level of pressure the vent ports expand and release the gas to avoid explosion.
